

1 Minute Google

One Google tip every day

Chrome on Android is getting a navigation bar redesign to make room for Gemini

ACTION STEPS

- ✓ That's right, Gemini is getting some serious upgrades and more power directly inside Chrome on your Android device.
- ✓ According to the latest buzz, Gemini is literally getting more capabilities and deeper integration within Chrome on Android.
- ✓ This isn't just a small tweak; it means Gemini will have more direct control and functions right there in your browser. Are you actually using Gemini yet, or are you still a Google Assistant person? Let me know in the comments!
- ✓ So basically, get ready for Gemini to be a much more prominent part of your everyday Chrome experience on mobile. You'll likely see it rolling out in upcoming updates.

PRO TIP:

Did you know you can customize Chrome's default search engine in settings for faster results?